RICHARDSON IS DETERMINED.

He Will Quit the Game Rather Than Play

In Washington.

Richardson, who has spent the winter at Vestfield, Pa., in charge of a branch store

a reporter, and in response to an inquiry as to whether he would play ball with Washington said: "I do not in-tend to go to Washington. The decision tend to go to Washington. The decision of the League makes me even more determined about it than ever. I would not go if they should offer me $1,000,000 for the season. I am so determined about it that I don't think even a derrick, if they brought one here, would move me. I don't think they looked at my case in the right light. As to the salary it is all right; but I do not propose to be forced to play against my will, and before I will play with the Washington Club will retire from the game, which I do dearly love."

will retire from the game, which I do dearly love."

Danny stated that he had received an order from the Washington club to report at Savannah, Ga., for practice, but he had ignored the instructions. Richardson claims that the case of Gienson, which was cited as a parallel to his case, is altogether different. He said Gleason signed with the St. Louis team, which is still in existence. He signed with the Athletic club, of Philadelphia, which passed out of existence by the consolidation of the American Association and the American League. Danny, therefore, claims that the New York club had the first chaim on him. He says the League was afraid to decide in his favor because it would establish a precedent to other players, while, in fact, his case is altogether different. He said that unless he was released from Washington he would remain in his store in this city this summer.

The case of Once Again, the 6-year-old son of Onondaga, presents curious features. The horse ran 17 races last year, six of which he won. He won two races at Gattenburg recently, and had another well in hand on Monday, when he fell near the finish, and, as veterinary surgeons declared, broke and displaced his shoulder, and would have to-be destroyed. The horse now cats with an appetite, appears to suffer no pain, and has a chance to recover. An examination showed that the bone was only cracked and not displaced. things for the latter gentlemen to do: Accept or strike. SUICIDE ENDS A FAMILY CRISIS. The Interference of the Woman's Father and Its Sad Results.

A Dead Uniontown Mother Is Found

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEARBY TOWNS

PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. UNIONTOWN, March 4.-Mrs. Sadie Stewart, of this place, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging herself in the attic. Her husband, William L. Stewart, left home without eating dinner to-day, and up to a late hour to-night has not been heard from. Stewart is a son of the late Alexander Stewart, of Spring Hill township, and a nephew of Hon. A. J. Stewart, of Smithfield. Several years ago, and shortly after the death of his father, Stewart sold the farm left him by his father and moved to Uniontown, where he purchased a house and lot. For over a year he has not done much work, and for some time past has been drinking heavily. Last night his father-inlaw, Rowland Evans, of Wymp's Gap, this county, paid them a visit to try to get Stewart to reform and provide for his family. Stewart came home about 10 o'clock intoxicated, and when censured for his conduct by Evans, a violent quarrel ensued. Mr. Evans went home this morning, and after he left

Stewart began abusing his wife because of her father's interference. Mrs. Stewart has been in very poor health for several years and her troubles have preyed heavily on her mind. Going to the attic shortly after dinner, it being supposed that Stewart had told her he was going away for good, she hanged herself from th rafter. She strangled to death, as the fall did not bresk her neck. She leaves two children, both boys, aged 10 and 15. The younger returned from school, and, after a ong search, found his mother dead. Dennty Coroner Stone held an inquest but as the jury are not satisfied as to the cause of the death of Mrs. Stewart no verdiet was rendered to-night.

in fighting any of the heavy-weights. While he fought at 154 pounds he was not thought to be a match for a heavy-weight, but since he scaled 170 pounds against Maher he ought to fight heavy-weights. He is game, clever and a hard hitter, and would probably make it warm for anyone. In answer to the question of whether he would fight Fitzsimmons now, Corbett said: "It was and is my intention to go to Eng-and in May to see the Slavin-Jackson fight. and then at the ringside I will challenge the winner. But if Fitzsimmons wents to fight me before then, let him challenge me and I will attend to him. I deposited $1,000 at the New York World office to guarantee my appearance in the ring against either Slavin or Jackson, but I will now add Fitzsimmons to that list, and if he covers that forfeit.

"I will fight him before the club, outside of the California Athletic Club, that offers the largest purse. He would probably weigh about the same as he did when he faced Maher, and I should go about 180 pounds, so that there would be not so much difference. "I am willing to fight Fitzsimmons before I go to England and then, if I liek him, I will fight the winner of the Jackson-Slavin fight in the fall."

W. B. Curtis Elected President of the Metropolitan Athletic Association, New York, March 4.—[Special.]—The Board of Managers of the Metropolitan Association, of the Amateur Athletic Union, met at the Astor House last night, C. F. Mathewson called the meeting to order. His resignation as president was then accepted Arthur Varian, of the Orange A. C., also resigned as

me of the managers, as his club left the A.

W. B. Curtis was elected president by ac-clamation, C. C. Hughes and J. R. Woodruff leclining to run, although their names were presented. The following dates were allowed:
March 15, Crescent Rowing Club (boxing);
March 19, West Side A. C. entertainment;
March 24. Clipper A. C. entertainment; March 26, Seventy-Jourth Regiment A. C. (entertainment; March 31. Queens A. C. (boxing); April 4, Ravenswood Boat Club (boxing).
The report that the Crescent Rowing Club's boxing show is to be given for the benefit of certain individuals was proven false by a resolution from the club itself. The board will meet again on the 14th inst.

MAGNATES HOME AGAIN.

They Speak Well of the League Meeting, but Not of the Schedule. The local baseball magnates returned rom New York yesterday morning. They hadn't much to say about the League meet-ing. They all stated that the best of har-mony prevailed and that everybody was satisfied that the season would be a prosper-During a conversation last evening Manager Buckenberger said: "Everybody at the meeting advised us to sign Jerry Denny, and re out him on our list but I don't think we will need him. The League directors all ad-will need him. The League directors all admitted that our claim on Lyons was valid, but that for the sake of harmony they could not vote for him to come here. I heard good authorities speaking well of Camp and Woodcock.

"The schedule is not a good one for us, as we have not been treated very well. I saw Murphy and he does not want to come here. He promised to return his advance money, and as soon as he does he can have his release."

REILLY AND WILLER They Will Wrestle Their Match Near Home stead Next Monday Night. The wrestling match between Ed Reilly and Bob Miller will take place in a hall at Hayes' station, near Homestead, Monday of three falls, mixed styles, for the receipts of three falls, mixed styles, for the receipts and $150 a side. The styles will be side hold, Garco-Roman and catch-as-catch-can.

The contestants are well known in and about Pittsburg, and have taken part in many contests. Reilly lays claim to the lightweight championship of the United States, and Miller has won several good matches. Both mea have been in training for Monday evening's event for some time.

THEY'RE MATCHED AGAIN.

Choynski and Jim Corbett to Face Each Other Once More. New Orleans, March 4.—In the Merchants Club of this city at 3 o'clock this morning, a match was arranged between Corbett and Choynski for $5,000 a side. This will make the fourth match between the famous boxers. Corbett has won three times from his fellow Californian, but Chovnski has improved at least 25 per cent since the meetings, and it is claimed by his friends that he will make the pretty boxer lower his colors. The date will be fixed perhaps to-night. Corbett can hardly refuse the match.

Ad Gumbert Signs. CHICAGO, March 4 .- Ad Gumber arrived in the city to-day and he and Anson had a long conference with the result that there will be no difficulty in coming to a settlement. It was understood that Gumbert had agreed to sign with the Athletics February 1, and if that was the case Anson did not feel like that was the case Anson did not feel like giving Ad $250 for signing, as he did last season. Ad's contract calls-for $2,000 and the $250 gift swelled his salary to $2,750. The kick has been on the $250. Ad denies that he ever promised to sign with the Athletics, and as Uncle Anson believes him, he will get the $250, sign and go South with the team sunday morning. Luby, Pipp, Duke, Murphy, Dahlen and Gumbert are now here ready to go. All appear to be in good condition. Anson is rapidly picking up after his recent illness.
